

AFNAD

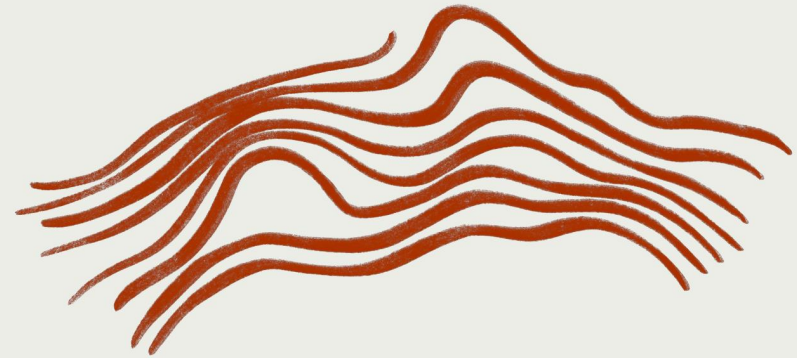

The Association of First Nations
Australians in Development

Providing a safe and culturally respectful platform for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders within Australia's development sector.

Who we are:

Currently 25 members across 19 managing contractors, independent consultancies, and Australian Government funded programs

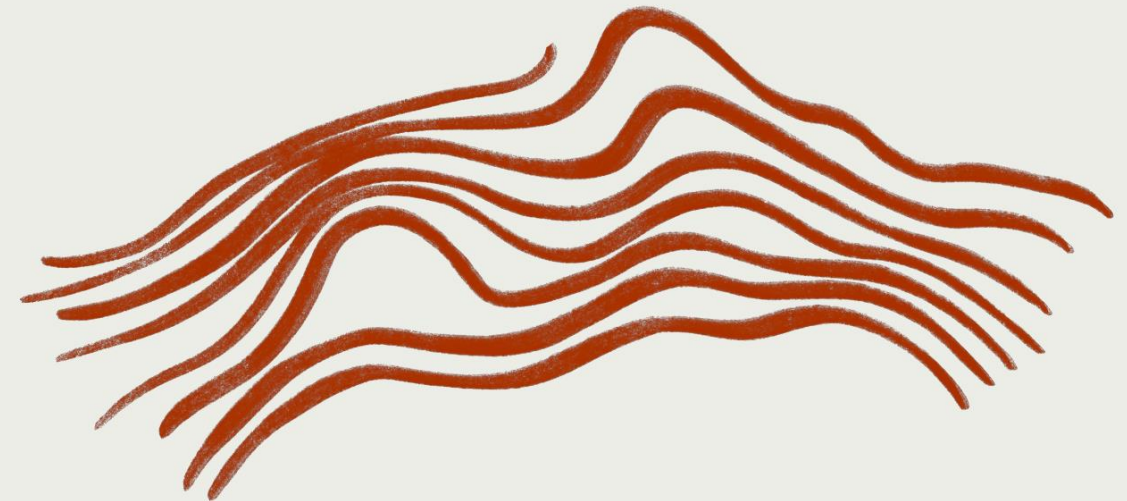

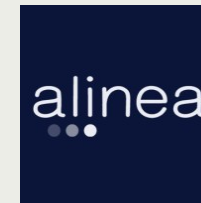

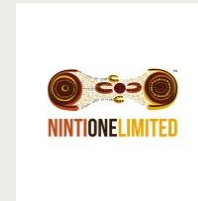

Work to date:

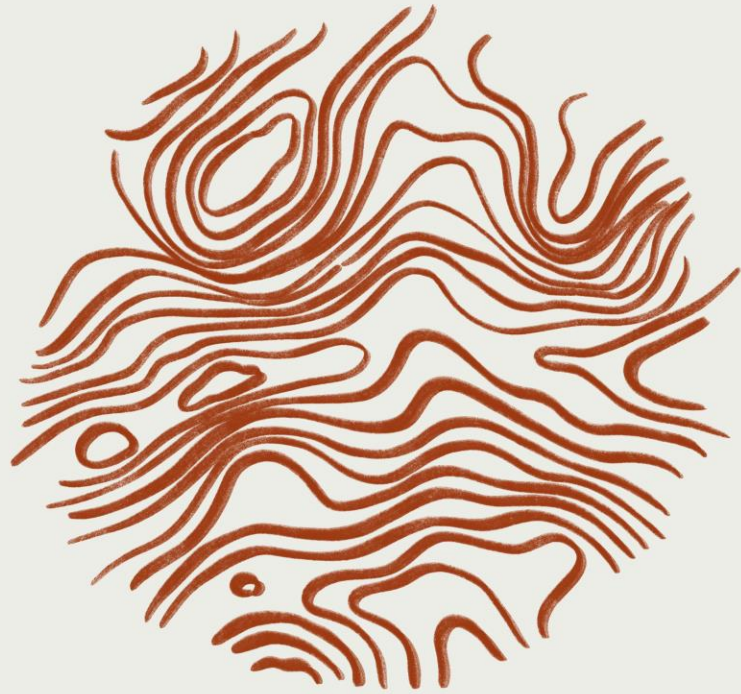

- Registered as an Incorporated Association
- AFNAD's Indigenous mentoring program
- Strong connections with the CareerTrackers Indigenous Internship Program
- Involvement with the IDCC's First Nations Working Group
- Lowy Institute's Aus-PNG Emerging Leaders Dialogue
- Engaged with First Nations Ambassador & Taskforce
- Exploring connections with similar groups across the Pacific

How you can show support:

- Spread the word - Share our network with your First Nations colleagues/employees
- Establish new pathways for engagement with First Nations development practitioners
- Don't be extractive
- Providing resources that build the capacity of AFNAD as a network whilst allowing us to maintain our independence
- Learning and networking opportunities for members
- Provide sponsorship or opportunities for AFNAD members to attend Industry events
