

Newsletter: PNG “lost decade?” report launch | Aid conference deadline + speakers

by Development Policy Centre

17 October 2014

A lost decade? Service delivery and reforms in Papua New Guinea 2002-2012

We're delighted to announce that on Thursday 30 October the PNG Treasurer, the Hon. Patrick Pruaitch MP, will be launching our new report comparing 2002 and 2012 surveys of 360 primary schools and health clinics from across the country. Has PNG been able to translate its economic boom into services for ordinary people? And what lessons can we learn for the future?

The report is a joint product of ANU and National Research Institute (NRI) researchers. The launch will be held at NRI in Port Moresby at 9am. To register or for further details please contact: Ron Sofo on rsofo@nri.org.pg, Eunice Kivan on ekivan@nri.org.pg, or phone: 326 0300/0016.

You can get a taste of the report's results in today's blog, which highlights the transformation in the gender composition of PNG's teaching and health care workforce over the last decade.

You can also get ready for the 2015 PNG budget by reading our commentary here (by Stephen Howes and Ron Sofo, on the twin challenges of rebalancing and deficit reduction) and also read Paul Flanagan's ten criteria for judging the success of the budget.

Australasian Aid Conference update – more speakers and deadline extension

We have more speakers for the 2015 Australasian Aid Conference. Devpolicy Associate Director Robin Davies will be delivering a keynote on the future of aid. We also welcome two additional international speakers: Ajith Nivard Cabraal, Governor of the Central Bank of Sri Lanka who will be headlining a high-level panel on recipient perspectives on aid; and Prabodh Saxena, a Senior Advisor at the Asian

DEVPOLICYBLOG

Development Bank, who will be speaking on our special panel on Indian development cooperation. They join those we have already announced, here.

We have had a good response to our call for papers, but in case you are yet to submit, we have extended the deadline to 29 October. Papers are welcome on a range of topics relating to aid effectiveness, the political economy of aid, aid from non-traditional donors, international public goods, the international development architecture, international climate change policy, and migration and trade.

Submissions are welcome from academics, students and practitioners. Abstracts should be submitted to devpolicy@anu.edu.au.

Registration for the workshop is also now open, with early-bird specials available until Monday 21 November.

Two positions available with Femili PNG

Femili PNG, which runs the Lae Family and Sexual Violence Case Management Centre, is currently recruiting for two roles. The first is for a part-time Development Manager in Canberra, the other for an Australian Volunteers for International Development assignment with Oxfam PNG in Port Moresby. Details here.

Upcoming events

ODI Fellowships: opportunities for postgraduates

Darren Lomas will discuss the ODI Fellowship scheme and provide details on the recruitment and application process for 2015-2017. Register here.

PNG's lost decade? An assessment of service delivery progress and expenditure reforms

The next PNG budget forum will be held on 30 October at NRI in Port Moresby. It is a free event, open to all. For further details please contact Colin Wiltshire or Ron Sofo.

2015 Australasian Aid Conference

Our annual aid conference will be held on 12-13 February 2015. We are now calling for papers and registrations are open, with early bird pricing until 21 November. For details, visit the website.

Blog highlights

Why only some aid-financed ambulances work

Ebola exposes WHO's weaknesses

Is 'cash-for-oil' all it's cracked up to be?

Will Australia lift its game on climate finance?

On the blog

Good news on the gender front in Papua New Guinea by Stephen Howes, Andrew Anton Mako, Anthony Swan, Grant Walton, Thomas Webster and Colin Wiltshire

Ebola – lessons so far for the international community by Sam Byfield

Resource wealth and direct dividend payments: what's missing? By Ryan Edwards

Does the introduction of ambulances improve access to maternal health services in rural Ethiopia? By Ruth Jackson

Pursuing gender equality through critical reflection: World Vision's gender equality study by Erin Goddard

The twin challenges facing the 2015 Papua New Guinea budget: rebalancing and deficit reduction by Stephen Howes and Ron Sofo

Women's economic empowerment and Australian aid: more work to be done by Ashlee Betteridge and Stephen Howes

Climate finance after the New York summit: will Australia lift its game? By Jonathan Pickering

Pacific countries demonstrate the fundamental flaw in the SOE model by Laure Darcy

In brief

Two positions available with Femili PNG

Australia gets off lightly in 2014 global aid transparency rankings

How many Australian charities are working internationally?

More aid cuts?

This is the fortnightly newsletter of the Development Policy Centre at Crawford School of Public Policy, Australian National University, published every second Friday.

Author/s:

Development Policy Centre

The Development Policy Centre is part of the Crawford School of Public Policy under the College of Law, Governance and Policy at The Australian National University.

Link: <https://devpolicy.org/newsletter-20141017/>