

Vacancies at the Oil Search Foundation in PNG

Author : Ashlee Betteridge

Date : December 16, 2015

The Oil Search Foundation in Papua New Guinea is recruiting six new positions. After a strategic review and expansion of its mandate in 2015, the Foundation is now focusing on three development priorities in PNG: health, leadership and education, and women's protection and empowerment.

The job vacancies include a Head of Leadership and Education, Provincial Development Managers for programs in Kutubu (Southern Highlands Province) and Tari (Hela Province), a Women's Protection and Empowerment Program Manager, and a Public Relations Officer.

Full job listings are available below as well as on the Oil Search Foundation's website. Please direct any inquiries to the Oil Search Foundation through the contact information on their website -- expressions of interest left as comments on this blog will not be passed on.

- Head of Leadership and Education (Port Moresby based)
- Provincial Development Manager – Kutubu (Expat – FIFO)
- Provincial Development Manager – Kutubu (FIFO)
- Provincial Development Manager – Hela (FIFO)
- Women's Protection and Empowerment Program Manager (Port Moresby based)
- Public Relations Officer (Port Moresby based)

About the Oil Search Foundation

The Oil Search Foundation is a development partner dedicated to improving the lives of Papua New Guineans. It focusses on health, leadership and education, and women's protection and empowerment. Further details about its work are available on its website.